

Anti-nuclear power poster with Japanese translation added, available for downloading

Contributed by Jan Lundberg
04 July 2011

As announced July 2, our new anti-nuclear power color poster is available to you for downloading and printing out, and below (slow loading). It is 11 x 17 inches, or 28 x 43 centimeters, high-resolution (300 dpi). Please let us know if you place a copy or copies anywhere, and what the public's reaction is. Suggestions: schools, churches, workplaces, shop windows, and mailing a poster to a friend -- and to a Japanese nonprofit group, news website, or student organization.

If possible, please use 100% post-consumer waste paper or tree-free paper.

Down with evil nukes! We don't need that energy! Let there be renewable, benign energy on the local level for sustainable living!